

Both forms are correct and are the comparative forms of the adjective old. They are used in different contexts, though:

This is Lisa: she is my elder sister.

My car is older than yours.

Elder is usually used when talking about relationships within a family.

Older can be used to refer to the age of things.

