

KINTSUGI

Kintsugi is the Japanese for 'golden joinery', and it consists in mending broken crockery with a blend of powdered lacquer and golden foil. It is one of the expressions of the esthetical tenets of wabi-sabi, a philosophy which aims to accept transience and incorporate imperfection. Other analogous expressions of wabi-sabi are zen gardens and ikebana, the art of arranging flowers.

Click on the picture
for a VIDEO on the principles of kintsugi...