

Be in Cahoots

To be in cahoots (usually followed by the preposition 'with') means to be secretly planning something together, especially something dishonest:

Most politician are in cahoots with organized crime.

Sometimes it is used in the form 'go cahoots', with the meaning of sharing equally, becoming partners :

We went cahoots in the purchase of the land.