

First things first: a cake is never cooked in English, but baked. Whatever is prepared in the oven is baked (hence the bakery and the baker), whereas whatever is prepared on a stove is cooked. Here are a few basic cooking procedures:

Kneading the dough

Sprinkling the cinnamon

Chopping the vegetables

Whisking the batter

Carving the turkey

Slicing the cake

Sautéing the mushrooms

Blending the milk with the bananas
