Book #3

Zuleika Dobson

by Max Beerbohm (1911)

Probably the single funniest novel EVER written. Zuleika, who is neither beautiful nor smart, drives all of Oxford undergraduates insane with her prestidigitator skills and her unaccountable charm. Among her love victims is the Duke of Dorset, who is as famous as he is bumptious... The finale is truly surprising and so is the narrator's voice, which amuses the reader throughout the whole story.
